You are in the process of writing your thesis?

You are wondering how to write a scientific paper professionally and you are longing for professional coaching?

In this case, ISGS offers help with the ISGS-Online-Workshop & Coaching “Scientific Writing”.

Content & Workshop Goals:

During the Online Workshop participants will learn more about the theory and practice of writing scientific papers. They will get to know a tool-kit designed to help modelling and structuring scientific papers. Based on concrete examples participants will practice “strategy tools” for a “logical flow”, “argumentation tools”, “coordination tools” for an overall harmonization as well as a roadmap guiding them through the formal realization. A coaching appointment “on-demand” can be arranged with the trainer as a follow-up exercise.
